Consent for Treatment

Our first responsibility is the restoration of your mouth to a healthy state. For your benefit, a thorough examination, including dental x-rays, photos and diagnostic models of your mouth may be necessary before an intelligent and efficient analysis of your dental needs can be made.

We encourage you to become a part of our preventative program which involves periodic recall appointments for exams, cleanings and instruction for the prevention of further damage by oral disease.

There are risks involved in all dental procedures. Specific risks include, but are not limited to, infections, swelling, pain, discoloration and partial or complete, permanent or transient, numbness or paresthesia in areas of the oral cavity. Sometimes there are complications that cannot be foreseen. If we are not able to resolve your chief complaint, we will assist you in finding a specialist that can accommodate your needs.

Alternative methods of treatment and the consequences of no treatment will be explained. The procedures involved in dental treatment include the use of anesthetics, sedatives and other medications. Changes in any treatment plan will be discussed with you for your approval.

You may ask questions regarding any proposed procedure and the risk involved, and you have the right to refuse any procedure.
